

Public Health Inspector – Full Time
$74,401 - $85,176

KFL&A Public Health is a local public health agency with over 200 staff volunteers who deliver public health programs and services to the people of the KFL&A area. There is an immediate opening for a Public Health Inspector, Environmental Health, within the Infectious Disease Prevention and Environmental Health portfolio.

The Public Health Inspector is responsible for carrying out a general public health inspection program in a designated area through enforcement of the Health Protection and Promotion Act, and the Regulations made thereunder and other relevant legislation.

The ideal candidate will have a Bachelor of Science – Environmental Health degree or equivalent, possess a Certificate in Public Health Inspection (Canada) and have the ability to demonstrate knowledge of the Health Protection and Promotion Act and related regulations. One year of related experience is preferred.

KFL&A Public Health is committed to providing staff with a healthy work environment. Continuing education and professional development opportunities; flexibility in work hours; family-friendly policies; strong community and clinical leadership and support and an open-minded, caring, supportive environment, all play an integral role in employee retention.

If you are interested in this exciting opportunity, please apply to: Human Resources, KFL&A Public Health: hr@kflaph.ca by August 30, 2024.

KFL&A Public Health supports diversity in all of its forms, including but not limited to age, disability, economic circumstance, marital status, ethnicity, gender, gender identity and gender expression, race, religion, and sexual orientation. Accommodations will be made, upon request, for candidates taking part in all aspects of the selection process.

We thank all those who take the time to apply, but only those chosen for an interview will be contacted.
